DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 6-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for creating a nonmagnetic region at places where an overlying masking material is removed, does not reasonably provide enablement for the maintaining magnetic properties in places that correspond to the removed portion of the mask while at the same time destroying the magnetic properties in areas that are protected with an overlying mask. Also, from retain. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to practice the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. It seems as though claim 7 is directed to exactly the opposite of what has been described in the specification. Additionally, it is noted that the specification describes selectively removing the "sea" portion (claimed as "separation" region), whereas claim 6 is directed to removing the "island regions".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1763

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent 5,607,599 issued to Ichihara et al. (hereinafter, Ichihara).

Ichihara teaches providing a patterned masking layer over a magnetic layer and the subjecting the exposed magnetic material to a halogen containing plasma. Ichihara teaches that a nonmagnetic compound forms as a result of a reaction between the material of the magnetic layer and the activated halogen gas. Ichihara teaches the magnetic material comprises Co and the plasma may contain a fluorine compound such as CH<sub>2</sub>F<sub>2</sub>. See: figures 3-5 and 6a-6g; column 5, line 59; column 11, line 64 – column 12, line 20; column 15, line 66 – column 16, line 20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ichihara in view of US Patent 6,014,296 issued to Ichihara et al. (hereinafter, "the '296 patent").

The above noted teachings of Ishihara are herein relied upon.

Ichihara does not teach forming a servo pattern.

The '296 patent teaches forming a servo pattern.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to create a servo pattern when making Ichihara's magnetic recording medium because, with a patterned structure similar to that of Ichihara's, the '296 patent teaches that how to make, and the desirability of making such addressing patterns when a disk is manufactured.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
